1. Chapter 1

Return to Gravity Falls:

New adventures and new loves

Note: Here is a sequel of the last two seasons of Gravity Falls, set in the year following in the summer, as determined by the letter written by the sweet Wendy: "See you next summer.". And moreover signed by various friends, as well as by Wendy. So a year later, finally the twins Dipper and Mabel returned to Gravity Falls the following summer, with the consent of their parents. And are returned even their uncles Ford and Stan. Obviously, their friends and the whole town of Gravity Falls them warmly welcomed i little twins, since they were the heroes who had saved the place from the terrible and disastrous apocalypse caused by an evil spirit nicknamed Bill Cipher. The little twins, now teenagers, with time They received new friendships and new loves and increasingly close relations with their uncles. But also new adventures. At the beginning, in fact, Dipper and Mabel thought they could spend this time a "quiet" summer without unexpected when he did not return until the terrible Bill Chiper, which has become more and more vindictive than ever. you do not know how, but the spirit was able to break free from his stone prison thanks to the power of revocation by his brother, Buddy Cipher, simply said Billy (with the "y"): a spirit in the form of silver triangle overthrown, good and generous and big fan of yoga and inner peace in Buddha style, for this his nickname Buddy. Quite the opposite of Bill Cipher. Buddy thought, liberating it, that he would be able to convince his twin to redeem himself completely, given the past failures by the evil spirit. But Bill was not able however to forget his revenge, become increasingly malicious and unfriendly. So, Buddy seeing the bad intentions of Bill, reluctantly bound him in a parallel universe called "the" dream world. Taking advantage of the fact that his brother was left with no powers because of the clash with Stan and that's why he could not rebel, Buddy did attach it in a dark corner of the dream world with a magic golden chain. So that Bill could meditate alone on his evil deeds. But Buddy, leaving him alone, He has not come to terms with the mental will of his brother. In fact, Bill was able to slowly summon his new power: the monopoly of dreams and nightmares. This new power could not help Bill to free from his prison, but just could, however, help him accomplish his revenge: Destroy forever Pines family. With that power, he could get in touch with other spirits "sleepers" were imprisoned in parts of Gravity Falls, all his servants, and encourage it to wake up and destroy his enemies. Has also the power of create new nightmares to the inhabitants of Gravity Falls. And so he began another "adventurous" Summer for our favorite twins.

About love, however, I thought of giving the new soul mates in Dipper and Mabel, before the return of Bill Cipher: The arrival of Irish twins, Jane and Tommy. I really like it Wendy because fun and nice but unfortunately too old to Dipper, while I don't like never Pacifica at all, even if she is actually good. I do not like it either CandyxDipper. This is why I thought of a new soul mate for Dipper. Mabel was also unlucky in love, I'm sorry to know that his friend Mermando is about to marry another girl. I would have liked to see them together, in pairs. And Mabel therefore deserves a new love really requited: Tommy. Even Stan and Ford will receive a new love, but unfortunately they fall in love soon with the same woman. And this thing will jeopardize the brotherly relationship between the twins, because of jealousy. In addition to new imaginary couples, in this story there will also be old pairs really canonical: MelodyxSoos and BlubsxDurland (the latter now declared official in the last episode of the second season and confirmed by the author, Alex Hirsch. And, Yes, I love also the stories of love yaoi).

For couples in love, in Gravity Falls would be held a traditional feast of entertainment, called "Search and dance with your soul mate," which opens at least every three years for a special occasion. And this festival can help our protagonists to discover the true feelings and declare it them to their soulmates.

2. Chapter 2

Return to Gravity Falls:

New Adventures and New Loves

Chapter 1

*Home, Sweet home. ****

Here, finally at home.

Dipper and Mabel, along with their pet pig, tried a strange sense of sadness mixed with nostalgia and a bit 'of happiness. Sad to be gone from Gravity Falls and when they greeted their friends. Nostalgia for having missed for their uncles, but also especially for their parents. And a bit 'of happiness to be home at lasta home, a place so familiar and cozy at the same time. That is how they tried the twins, returning in California. Just arrived down from the bus, their parents were already in front of them to welcome them and embrace them. And the little twins had not lost time to run to their, with tears in his eyes and the brightest smiles. Thus took place a long, warm embrace that portrays a perfect family picture, so for several minutes.

After the embrace, the twins could not wait to tell all that had happened to Gravity Falls. And the same goes for and Mrs. Pines, who were eager to hear their stories. First, they accompanied them leading to the house. While walking with them, Mr. Pines noticed something different about Dipper.

"You've grown a lot, I see." He murmured, watching it quietly. "And not just physically. You are a bit 'different even within you. Youyes, more mature and serious than before. Who knows, maybe you'll have been doing in Gravity Falls? And what a nice new hat you have ... is a memory that you bought in that place, right? ".

On hearing those words, Dipper became red in the face. He lowered his hat over his eyes, as if to hide his true face. "Not really, Dad ...".

And Mabel intervened immediately on the defensive for his brother. "Here, it's a long story, Dad. That hat, really, is a gift from a friend of hers, a girl. ".

Girl. To hear this, Dipper blushed even more furiously.

"Oh, I see." He said his father, more intrigued than ever. "So it's a crush, huh Dipper? It looks nice and cute this girl, if he made you a gift like that. "

Dipper shook his head, embarrassed. "She's just a friend. Nothing more.". He replied, hiding her face again, with hat visor. The part of Wendy was the only thing that Dipper not would never tell. _I do not think that Dad and Mom will be thrilled when they find out I'm in love with a much older girl than me. A sixteen year old._ Dipper thought, sadly.

"Ok, right." Reassured his father, smiling at Dipper. He gave him also an affectionate pat on the back. Dipper finally smiled, now quiet.

Arrived at the threshold of the house, the twins left a big sigh of relief.

"It even seems passed a century since we left the house.".

Mabel observed, looking around wistfully. He dropped on the floor his two suitcases; a trolley and a large bag of blue with yellow stars. One of those pockets in sailor style, always lean on your shoulders.

But there was an unexpected: At thud, was heard a strange noise inside the bag. One might almost say the cry of an animal, such as "Oink!".

The parents were amazed and perplexed, to hear a similar noise. First they looked at the bag which already began to move a bit ', then the twins. Now more severely. "Tell the truth, Mabel. What do you have in that bag? " The father asked, crossing his arms.

Mabel looked down, blushing. He began fiddling with a lock of hair. "Here, I did not know exactly how you would have behaved ... In case if I had brought with me a small animal pet. I thought, in fact, that maybe you would have reacted badly, if I brought with meWaddles. ". And she opened the bag, revealing at inside a young pig.

The parents were out of breath. "Mabel, my darling ..." said the mother. "You know well that we can not keep a pig. It is not like a dog or a cat. And then the pigs are not suitable as pets, they need to eat more and sleep in the mud. ".

"This is not true." Retorted Mabel, desperate. "The pigs, at least in recent times, have also been used as pets, as well as for food. And then waddles is different: he's very good and obedient, can learn a lot about how to behave in the house. Now look. Waddles, a kennel! " The pork obeyed, wagging his tail happy. The mother looked up at the sky. "Oh, perfect. Now we have a pig that behaves like a dog. ".

"Yes, like the famous Babe of the film.". Mabel joked, beaming.

"I do not know how you two have done to bring a pig with you, during the bus trip. I thought it was forbidden to travel with pets ... ". Observed doubtfully, the father.

"Well ..." Said Mabel, looking at his pig. "We managed to convince the coach driver to take him with us, thanks to our great-uncles ...".

Suddenly, Dipper gave her a strong pat with his elbow. Mabel remembered immediately that the parents still did not know the reappearance of the old great-uncle Ford, the twin of Stan. "I mean, thanks to our great-uncle Stan.". The twins would tell back later the Ford uncle's return, given the tension in the air because of the pig.

"Ah." The father said, puzzled. "So it was him, to give to you in gift this pig?"

Mabel denied. "Not exactly. I've won at a fairground ... So waddles became my beloved pet, all summer. Me and waddles, on departure, we both became sad when it comes to separate us. But fortunately the Stan uncle did not allow me to do so. Indeed he managed to convince the driver to accept the pig (threatening). And so we arrived here. ".

And Mabel began to smile broadly, repeatedly slamming his eyes. That's one of those angel faces. An old trick to convince and to soften parents to keep the little Waddles.

"Well, in this case ...". Mr. Pines said, turning to his wife. "If it was the great-uncle Stan to decide so, I do not see why bring back the pig." He began to scratch his neck uncertain.

He then turned to his daughter. "Mabel, if your pig is good and obedient as you say...Then you can keep it with you. Just that he does not do damage here. Otherwise we will sell to some farmer in a trade show, or whatever. "

Mabel immediately began bouncing joyously, like crazy. "Yup! Thanks Dad!". And she ran to embrace him. She hugged also her mother.

"Ok, that's enough." Sighed her mother, amiably. "Now, you two go get settled in your room. And Change your clothes, which will be ready in a few hours dinner. So after you will tell us everything. ".

"Yes, sir!" They said the twins in unison. And they ran away to their rooms, going up the stairs. With their pig in tow, then.

An hour later, finally to dinner.

The twins, just arrived, had already begun to tell of Gravity Falls. And Dipper was the first to speak, with some enthusiasm. He told of how he had spent, along with Mabel, summer in Gravity Falls. The extravagance of the great-uncle Stan and his "museum". The contagious sympathy of Soos. New friendships. The mysteries and legends that are often told in Gravity Falls woods. The friendliness of citizenship and their Tyler mayor. Then the turn of Mabel talking. She told her of his first amusement, of her new friendships with two friends, her pig at the fairground, and then of her first crush.

At hearing this, Dipper thought to avoid well to tell that Wendy was his first crush. It would be too embarrassing for him. He said that in fact she was just a friend. A small lie, for a good purpose.

For a few minutes, the twins still continued to speak well of Gravity Falls. Obviously, they did not say that this place was also full of real magic and strange creatures. It would be too weird to believe it really. Then, after, finally they spoke of the return of Ford's great-uncle.

As expected, parents were left speechless.

Mr. Pines was confused as ever. "Because I did not know anything? I thought Uncle Stan would have warned me on the phone, telling me of the Ford back. At least, before your arrival. "

"I thought, too me.". Intervened Dipper, quiet. "But since the great-uncles reconciled at last, after so many years of hatred and separation, they decided to go together to make up for lost time, between twin brothers. So they went together to the sea, on an old boat. In search of new adventures and pastimes to do together. For this, they could not find the time to warn you and tell everything on the phone. And so they recommended, at the end, which we will then were telling Ford the great-uncle. calmly. ".

"Oh.". Replied Mr. Pines, thoughtfully. He set the cutlery on the plate and stared at his son, gravely. "This is incredible."

Mabel now looked at her brother with a broad smile, and Dipper nodded pulling from his pocket a piece of paper with a number written on it. "Here this is the phone number, the great-uncles. Of their old home, where they grew up together before the separation. ".

The parents were surprised. "Are you telling me that they are back in New Jersey?" He asked the father, taking the leaflet.

"Yes, to take their old boat they had built by young people." Dipper said, eating a last bite of mashed potatoes.

"Oh, okay." He murmured , increasingly thoughtful. "So the Pines family has a little 'enlarged."

The little twins nodded in unison. "Yes, it is."

The father gave a fake cough, to take a serious pose. "Okay, guys. Tell me all on Great-uncle Ford. "

Mabel and Dipper exchanged a happy look, and they returned together to look at the parents. Thus began the story of Uncle Ford. They said that their uncle not was died but only disappeared, without leaving any trace. He was simply went in search of himself, and what is more in search of mysterious little explored places to write in his scientific reports. In the end, He also wanted to make the mysterious. Obviously, The twins not said nothing of the magical portal that had taken Uncle Ford, because of the brawl with his brother Stan. Even this would be too weird.

Finished the story, the father got up from the table. "Ok, I'll call later your great-uncle Ford on the phone."

"You can do it now. It is possible that at this time the great-uncles will now be home after the boat ride. "He felt Dipper, with a sly wink. Hush.

"Ah, well." He said , satisfied with that answer. "Okay, time to call your Uncle Ford. You two, in the meantime, you can watch TV. If you want. ".

Dipper politely he denied. "Before we help the mom to put in place the kitchen.". Mabel gave a sly wink. "Before Duty, then pleasure.". And the two began to put away the dishes and cutlery from the table, and then bring everything in the kitchen. The parents were surprised: they had never seen their children so "mature" and kind. The period in Gravity Falls had them did change a bit '. "They grow a bit 'too fast.".The mother sighed, with a sad smile. Mr Pines nodded to his wife. "Yeah." And immediately he left the dining room, to go to the corridor outside his cell. He typed the number written on the paper and waited for a few minutes, with the phone on the ear, until she heard arriving Uncle Ford's voice. "Hello?".

"Hi, are you Uncle Ford? The twins have told me about you. ". Announced , anxious.

"Oh, it's you, my nephew?" Croaked the voice of Uncle Ford on the phone. "How are you? What have they told you Mabel and Dipper on me?

Meanwhile, in the dining room, Mabel held out one ear to the hallway, where you could almost hear her father's voice that spoke something on the phone. "What do you think they will stay saying?". Asked anxiously Dipper, and piled the last dishes. Mabel shrugged. "I do not know exactly. But I hope good news. " She showed off one of its unmistakable bright smiles. The usual optimistic. Dipper smiled fondly to his sister. "I hope so much, too me". Mabel continued with his optimism. "I hope they'll let us leave for Gravity Falls, also next summer.". Dipper nodded silently, expectantly, too.

Meanwhile, his father finally appeared in the doorway. "Guys, they want you to on the phone."

The twins cried for happiness and immediately rushed into the hall to take the phone out of the hand of the father.

"Hello, Uncle Ford!". They shouted in unison, happier than ever. On the other side of the phone, Uncle Ford covered his ear to avoid the risk of becoming deaf because of Whooping voice of his grandchildren, and laughed happy. "Hello guys. How are you?". Behind him, laughed also the uncle Stan for the enthusiasm of his grandchildren.

"We well!" They said once again in unison, the little twins. "And you?".

Uncle Ford chuckled a little 'happily, and said that he and Stan's uncle were well. Then he added. "Your father told me all about us. Apparently, he does not know about monsters and spells that were in Gravity Falls. Neither of the portal and Bill Cipher. Well, I'm glad for you. You did well. It would be too hard to believe. They would have taken for fools. ". And he chuckled again.

"It already is." Said finally Dipper, chuckling. Then he grew serious, but still smiling. "We went back for a while ', but you already miss us so much."

Uncle Ford smiled sadly. "The same for us.". Hush. Then he added. "But there is good news. Your father and I talked about how you two were happy on holiday in Gravity Falls. Your father was speechless of your change. On the positive side, of course. And he even thinks it's a good thing. It will not have anything to say if the two of you will return to Gravity Falls, again, next summer. And so do we. ".

Dipper was speechless, he could not believe his ears. Even Mabel had been silent. Then, together, they answered almost both.

"Really?".

Uncle Ford laughed, plugging the ear again. "Yes, my grandchildren. So it is. Try to talk to your father, then later you will tell me how it went. Ok? ".

The twins nodded, more excited than ever. "Another thing, boys.". He interjected Uncle Ford on the phone. "About half an hour ago, I heard Soos and Wendy on the phone with their news for all of us."

Dipper gulped with excitement. "Tell me.". And Mabel increasingly strained his ear close to the phone. Uncle Ford replied calmly. "Soos asked of you, wanting to know if you were good and if you were willing to return to Gravity Falls. Obviously, after me, he talked to your Uncle Stan how it is going in the Mystery Shack. Wendy also asks of you. She says she feels your lack. ".

Dipper said nothing, as looked down. Hearing about Wendy hurt he a little.

Uncle Ford had not finished talking. "She said that these days is trying to send you a letter.". Dipper's eyes widened in amazement. "Really?".

The uncle nodded. "Yup. I gave me your address. We thought, I and Stan, it would please you and Mabel. In the name of friendship. You do not mind, do you? ".

Dipper smiled a bit '. "No. We are very happy, indeed. ".

Uncle Ford laughed. "All right, guys. Glad we talked with you today. And then let me know after com'andata with your father. Ok? ".

Dipper nodded happily. Ford sighed softly in response. "Okay, guys. Now we have to go. Good night.". And he hung up the phone with a click sound. Mabel looked at his brother, still smiling with emotion. "Do you realize, brother? We can go back again to Gravity Falls ". His twin nodded, thinking at the letter of Wendy who was yet to come. "Yes, it is." He responded.

At the same time, in which the twins were still on the phone, their parents looked at them with curiosity. "I have not never seen them so happy and full of enthusiasm. And are so grown up." Murmured the mother, moved.

Mr. Pines nodded in agreement. "It must be the effect of Gravity Falls. And to think that until a few years ago, Dipper hated to go camping or in the woods, or something similar. He wanted to stay at home, playing with video games. And now look at him. ".

"Yeah, it's true." watched Mrs. Pines, taking her husband's hand.

Mr. Pines looked at his wife. "You know what, honey? Me and Uncle Ford talked for a bit 'of Gravity Falls. And how happy our children were there. He asked me if we regret if we can let go Dipper and Mabel to Gravity Falls, the next summer. ".

Mrs. Pines was amazed. "Seriously?". And she began to smile with happiness. Mr. Pines nodded, patting the hand of his wife. "Yup. Would I do it. If it's good enough also for you". Mrs. Pines was happy with the answer. "Of course, dear. We would do this, for our children. If they are pleasing ... ". Mr. Pines laughed. "I think that will make him very happy. You're assured. "

Finally, they returned the little twins back.

"There it is.". the father he rejoiced. "You talked for a long time with your great-uncles, right"?

Mabel and Dipper nodded, hoping to hear the news that both waited.

"And I imagine that you have also talked about how to get back again in Gravity Falls, next summer. Though not without our consent."

The twins nodded again, with eyes full of hope.

The father opened his arms, with enthusiasm. "Well, me and your mum we have decided to leave depart you for Gravity Falls, next year!".

The twins cried for happiness and ran to hug and thank their parents. "Yes! Thanks, Mom and Dad! ".

An hour later, the twins were already in their bedroom. They were both in their pajamas, just about to go to bed. Dipper pulled out of his jacket the note he had left the Wendy, before leaving. He still had in mind that magic word "See you next summer."

He sighed happily. "I do not can not believe this is really happening."

And he looked up to wade his sister. "Me too, brother." Said Mabel, as she put to bed his little pig.

then he joined his brother and took the paper.

"What do you do, Mabel?". The Dipper asked, intrigued and worried. Mabel winked. "Now you'll see.". And he put the piece of paper on the desk, as he pulled something out of the drawer. A few minutes later, Mabel turned to show the result to his twin. The paper t is now in a beautiful colored frame, behind glass. Dipper was speechless, and took the frame to admire it better. "But it's beautiful, Mabel. Really."

Mabel blushed at the compliment. "Thanks, Dipper. I thought that this letter had something special. Something magical. For this, I thought I'd frame it to protect it. But also because it could bring good luck. "

Dipper was moved by those beautiful words, and hugged her sister.

"Thank you, Mabel. Now let's go to bed. But first a nice place for our favorite frame. "

And in the end he chose a beautiful empty area on the wall above his desk. "Here it is. So we will see more in front, in front of our beds. "

"Nice idea.". She replied her sister, holding his thumb up in approval. Then he went to bed, with a small yawn. "Good night, Dipper".

"Good night, Mabel." And he put the bedside light, that it was between the two beds. Before falling asleep completely, Dipper looked at the frame now illuminated by the moonlight. He immediately thought of Gravity Falls and his friends. Then he made a huge smile: "See you next summer." Shortly after, finally he fell asleep.

At next chapter.

Return to Gravity Falls:

New Adventures and News Loves

Chapter 2

*The Wendy's Letter. ****

A month had passed since the twins had arrived at home. It was on October 1, and the leaves of the trees had almost lost their bright summer green around the back from school, Dipper and Mabel drew near to the mailbox of their home. Dipper was the first to open that mailbox, but then he was disappointed when he looked into the result.

"No mail, right?". His sister asked, looking genuinely sorry.

Dipper nodded sadly in silence, as he closed the red mailbox.

Mabel put the hand on shoulder of her brother. "Perhaps Wendy had a lot to do in Gravity Falls, after the disaster caused by Bill. Maybe she just sent later later his letter. Maybe we should just wait...still a little. " She gave him a reassuring smile.

Dipper looked seriously his twin. "Yes maybe. Howeverâ€¦". Then he began to fondle the soft peak of his new hat. "It's been a month, we are now in October.". Mabel looked down. "Already.". Suddenly, she pulled out a paper bag and drew out a hot donut fragrant. "Here, brother. I'ts for you. To sweeten your mood. ". And she began with a beaming smile. "Be optimist".

Dipper was moved and took the donut. "Thank you, Mabel. Maybe you're right. We just have to wait still. Now let's go inside. ". And the twins entered the house, continuing to chat. "True, it's been a month, but it seems almost a century, since we have left Gravity Falls.". Mabel remarked, putting her backpack on the floor. "And next summer seems far away ... but come on! Not so bad after all. We found here our old friends, and our new middle school is not as terrible as Wendy had told. Perhaps we are only at the beginning of our adolescence. ".

Dipper off his hat and ruffled his hair. "Already". And he began to puff, ironically a little'. "Aside some bully that have targeted my hair, with their stupid sticky rubber bullets.". He was finally able to take away a piece of rubber. Almost snatching a little tuft of hair.

Mabel laughed, embarrassed . "Aside from that."

Dipper sighed frustrated. "Bullies are the only thing that I can not bear at school. And they are much worse than those in primary school: they take you right to punch, every time you do something wrong. If one of them dares to touch me or my sister, I'd send them to fuck off ... ". Immediately, he covered her mouth realizing what he was saying.

Mabel started strong chuckling, pointing a finger at him. "Ah-ha! My brother said the first dirty word! That's one of the first steps of adolescence. " Dipper became red in the face, and laughed too him. "Yeah, the teenage years.".

Mabel now made a serious and curious at the same time. "You think that will be the effect of teenage hormones? In short, the kind that is often talked about in school? Maybe that's why you're so very grouchy black. " Dipper shrugged. "Who knows. Maybe yes. Now let's greet our mom. ". Mabel nodded and followed his twin, going to the dining room.

At one point, The twins remained open-mouthed when they saw their father sitting at the table reading his newspaper. "Hello guys. Welcome at home!".

"Pope? I thought you were at work at this time. ". He asked amazed Dipper.

Mr. Pines laughed amused, as he held away his newspaper. "I've done before and so I went at home soon.". And he began to light his pipe. "Com'andata to school?".

"Pretty good". They answered both twins, almost relieved.

Mr. Pines smiled satisfied and took something from the table. "Since I have returned home earlier than expected, so I took the mail. I announce that there's a letter for you and Mabel, from Gravity Falls. From a certain Wendy. ".

The twins were left breathless for a minute, then cried ecstatic. "Yup! It's finally here ! ".

And Dipper ran to take the letter, with a fast move lightning and with eyes full of hope.

The father had not seen his son so determined and full of enthusiasm. Not so, in that way. He gave a sly smile, putting his pipe in his mouth again.

"Who is Wendy? A new friend, from Gravity Falls? Mica is not that girl who has given Dipper a new hat? His first crush, is not it? Tell me, Mabel, so with your brother? ".

Dipper blushed furiously. "Dad, please. I've already said. She's just ... um ... a friend of mine, and that's it. ".

Mr. Pines raised his hands, chuckling, as resigned. "Ok, Ok. Forget it!". And he winked at Mabel. She nodded, and turned to Dipper. "Now we go in to our room, quietly reading a letter.". "Yes, let's run!". And the twins lost no time to run to their room. Just arrived, Mabel had already excitedly. "Come on, opened it! I want to know coma goes to Gravity Falls ... And especially as now they will be my friends!

Also Dipper was eager to do so, and so opened the envelope. He pulled out a blue sheet of paper folded in two and unfolded it. His hands were shaking so much already, like never before. He was totally excited, like a little kid on Christmas Day.

Then he began to read aloud:

_Dear Dipper and Mabel, _

_How are you? I apologize for having written and sent this letter so late ... _

_But I had a lot to do with the shop Mystery Shack. Plus, I had to give a hand to all the citizens of Gravity Falls, to help them fix their thing ... after the Bill Cipher apocalypse. __I'm sorry for putting so much to answer, but you know I do not own a computer and I just use the phone to contact you. I have grown so my father taught me the importance of staying in touch with nature. Away from technology. He's like that, he's an old-fashioned type. What can you do? I am and always will be the daughter of a woodcutter. Certainly, with a new computer or a latest generation phone, it will be much easier and faster to contact. _

_But, on reflection, a warm letter of paper has more soul and poetry ... than a cold and metallic computer! Do not believe? For me, it is. I am very well at to write on this card, because this help me to think calmly. While I write these words, I do occasionally paused to admire the view that prevails entirely on Gravity Falls. Yes, you read right: I find myself now on the highest hill in the woods, where you can see all that small country. A real show. It is also so nice to write under a tree, where already beginning to drop some yellowed leaves in front of me. A pleasant little rain of autumn ...

_Dipper paused, looking up wistfully his eyes. To read those last words, she had given him a little thrill. Those words seemed full of love for him, even if it is not really. But Dipper hoped that they were it a bit'. Mabel sensed something seeing his brother's expression. __She patted him comforting and a warm encouraging smile. "Continue, Dipper. Quietly." __Dipper rose a bit' and nodded with a smile, then read the letter. _

_ "I imagine that you would want to know how it is going now to the whole Gravity Falls ... _

_Well, I can tell you that has changed the lives of nearly all of the inhabitants of Gravity Falls, after the Apocalypse. On the positive side, of course. Yes, it is, my boys. It is as if all that experience lived in that particular period had helped our friends to be more selfless, brave and kind as not ever. While it was always the same. __As an example, Soos already thought of wanting to go and live with Melody, in a new house to themselves. Obviously, after having earned enough money, In Mystery Shack. Without, however, straying too far from his beloved grandmother, while desiring a more independent life. Indeed, he even thought of wanting to expand the family in a few years. And business is good as well in Mystery Shack. __The Mayor Tyler, then, has become more collaborative and more enthusiastic than usual. He began to make plans in wanting to renew a bit 'the city.

Everything to make it a little 'more welcoming, even Gedeon is starting to really make an honest living, without cheating. He went to help his father at work, and became kind and friendly with everyone. Now as a normal child. __Pacifica also has changed a bit 'long: Although still a bit' vain, has become more gentle and mild even with the girls less popular. __What about the policemen Durland and Blubs? Although still a little 'childish, they are now less fearful and lazy than before. Especially, the Blubs sheriff. After he had recovered his beloved companion Durland, he has become more protective and severe than usual. Even more courageous and gentle at the same time. He It is realize what it means to protect and care for the people he loves. So he really does his duty, out of love for the city and for Durland. It becomes a sheriff more responsible, than usual. Although he had not lost the habit of joking around with others. __And then, dear Mabel, your friends Candy and Grenda are well and they asked me about you. They also say they can not wait to meet you again in Gravity Falls. And just about this, we have all known from Ford that you will return to Gravity Falls, next summer. And we are all very happy for that. All Gravity Falls is also grateful to you for saving his life. It's changed for the better, thanks to you. An old proverb says this: The changes, big or small, make do grow you always. With new life experiences and new adventures. __Do not forget it, guys.__

_And we can not wait to arrive early summer. We await you with trepidation, as the whole Citizenship of Gravity Falls. And then I will continue to write and send new letters. _

See you soon, guys! By Wendy.

P.S. Write me soon you too, please. A big kiss.

Dipper gently folded the paper, put it in the envelope and placed it on his bedside table. He took a long breath, looking nostalgically colored frame with the famous letter "See you next summer." He was also about to cry, for emotion. "Everyone has heard our lack, Mabel. And we too. ".

Mabel smiled quietly to his brother, as response. Then she got out of bed to go get something from the desk. A pen and a blank sheet. "How about writing our reply message and send it to our friends at Gravity Falls?".

The Dipper smile's widely spread, to the delight. "Yes, good idea. Give me the pen. ". And he began to sit, at the desk.

Stooping on the white sheet, he now looked very focused and determined. He thought for a moment, tapping with the pen on the surface of the table, then suddenly brightened. He began writing emphatically.

"_Dear Wendy,_

Thanks for your nice letter. we are also very happy to come to you in Gravity Falls. It would be wonderful to see you and great-uncles, next summer â€|. "

Dipper continued to write, without problems and with some enthusiasm. Like a river in flood, without never quit. And the pen ran smoothly, that it was just beautiful. And Mabel was so moved to see his twin now completely happy, and after she sat down at the desk too her. The two went together for a few minutes to write that letter, then they exchanged a big smile and a pleasant look complicit. Always together, between brothers.

He spent much time in the Pines home. In the middle of autumn, they were beginning to get new letters by Wendy. And even those of great-uncles. And Wendy, in those letters, replied that Gravity Falls was proceeding well. Or that Mystery Shack had finally set up new creations and new exhibitions coming. Or that the Mayor Tyler had planned to renovate some old houses, to bring prestige to the city. In short, a bit 'of everything. And the great-uncles responded instead that their boat was in need of a new repair. And they could not wait to review their beloved grandchildren.

And Dipper, after reading all those letters, he had put it in an old cardboard box, storing them carefully. As a precious treasure. But the letter most beautiful and special of all came just before Christmas. Since she arrived that letter, the twins had finished decorating their Christmas tree ... just in time!

And that letter was deemed to be special, because inside contained a picture-postcard as well as a written message.

It was a picture of the entire citizenry of Gravity Falls, all smiles beneath festoons Christmas, surrounded by snow. And at the corner of the picture there was a red written in beautiful handwriting refined: "Merry Christmas to all." Among the crowd, there were also their great-uncles.

The twins were moved and excited for that small gift so unexpected, then Dipper took the letter and read:

Hi, dear twins.

Like this photo? I hope yes. And this time to write this letter, we are here me and your great-uncles. All together here, to tell you so many things. Stan and Ford have come here to see the progress of our beloved village.

_Gravity Falls, made new, now it seems an another city. __Not only because of the Mayor Tyler... .But also because of citizens and their warm welcome. __But more especially for the Christmas Magic. I do not know why, but for me it is. __Here, the atmosphere seems more beautiful and sweet as never seen before._

It makes you warm your heart when you see in the street thousands of elegantly decorated parcels, gorgeous bright festoons, delicious hearty dinners, poignant songs. Even here it has fallen a lot of snow. Beautiful, soft, almost high a meter. Never seen like that, at that height. A wonderful show!

_And then the Magic of Christmas, in addition, brings forth many feelings combined. __Such as friendship, brotherhood and love!_

_Believe me, in this season I have never seen so much love here. It is as if it were already on Valentine's day. O as just arrived the spring, the mating season. __Think you, the spring in reverse ...Considering that here we are at Christmas, in the middle of winter. I assure you, my boys. Thanks to the magic of Christmas, many couples are in sunlight. With a small but remarkable courage that I admire very much the same._

_For example, Soos has finally asked at Melody to want marry it, and she agreed with a yes! Right under the big Christmas tree in the square.__ perfect time for the wedding statement. Now that you are officially engaged, the two will get married next year. __My father, an inveterate single widowed, has finally found his soul mate. Also Candy has found love after meeting a cute boy in an old general store. And she is so eager to tell all to you, dear Mabel, when she will have received in gift a new computer. So you will be contacted soon. __Also The sheriff Blubs and his Vice Durland found almost the courage to reveal and show their love in public. They were very shy at the beginning, to demonstrate their affection publicly. Although the whole town of Gravity Falls already knows that particular relationship. Only that those two, being both men and also now a couple, they not whether felt to prove in public ..._

_But now, at Christmas, something has changed: They have finally found almost the courage to do it. Thanks to me. And how? __Well, quite by accident. A few days ago, my friends, as usual, have combined a little trouble, playing with the square snowballs. It was evening, there was no living soul around. Only snow and lit lamps. Only us. __Then one of my friends did a trick with a big snowball, hurling it against the small statue of the square. And he did overthrow a bit '. After that gesture, the police patrol on the tour have seen it all and have intervened. Of course, my friends are all fled to escape the wrath of the sheriff. Only I was left here, quiet. I was just coming to the streets to sell the wood, where a relative of mine works in a shop near. I was just settling in front of the shop window, before going away with friends and close the store for the next day. __"Wendy, when did your friends cease to make trouble?". He asked the sheriff, almost angry. But I did not feel at all threatened by him, indeed I smiled instead. "Well, it depends on them. We're just guys. ". __Then I laughed when I saw something at the top. Almost choking and stifling my laughter, with both hands. __Durland was surprised and confused. "What's so funny, little girl?". __That said, I have indicated something above their heads in silence._

_The two policemen turned up the face and were surprised to see a mistletoe hanging above them. You should see their faces, the two have become red with embarrassment ! __The sheriff has put to stutter, redder than ever. "So what? It does not change what happened to your friends.. " _

_With a mischievous smile, I replied. "Why do not you kiss now? After all, you two are now a couple. " __A long awkward silence._

_"But are you crazy, Wendy? You must be joking, I hope ... ". He almost yelled the sheriff. And Durland has become more red in the face, than ever. __I looked up to the sky. "What do you care? I know perfectly well of your relationship, without nessun problem. Also knows you the whole Gravity Falls. But here there is no one to look at you. And then if you do not kiss, mistletoe will bring bad luck. ". __And I started to laugh a bit '. Then silence._

_Finally The two policemen were placed to look at one another. Blubs took off his hat and took the hand of Durland. __"Well ... Wendy is right. Here there is no one, aside her. We Can do it here, our first kiss under the mistletoe. ".__Durland smiled happily, moved. "Really, Daryl?". The sheriff nodded, then added another. "I love you." And the two have almost bowed, about to exchange the kiss. At the crucial moment, I will immediately I took a photo. The camera was hidden behind my back. A Polaroid. The policemen were not happy about that discovery, after the flash. "Ehii !".__

_"Sorry, I could not resist. You two are too cute. ". __And after I ran away with the picture in hand. "Do not make those faces, you are very well as a couple. I am proud of your courage! ". __Yes, it is my merit if now those two are a "official" couple. I could make a nosy reporter, as he had called me, the Sheriff. And this thing I do not mind at all. And then it was nice, to help a couple find the courage to be themselves. Long live the magic of Christmas! And also pure love. __And I? Well, me and Robbie have finally made peace and now we are together.__

_"Guys, I still and always keep on repeating that "the changes make you grow always!"__

_"And your great-uncles are agree to this. They want you healthy so fondly. And then, they warn that they have already sent you Christmas gifts.__

_"Now I leave you, my guys.__

_"Merry Christmas from all of us.__

_"Signed by: Wendy, Uncle Stan and Uncle Ford.__

Dipper put the letter away and looked back at his sister. Mabel had not stopped laughing for a second, along the bed. "Haha, that funny those cops! So tender and clumsy at the same time! ". Even Dipper chuckled amused. "Yeah, it's true, Mabel. And what about Soos? I'm happy for him, that he want to marry Melody. ". Suddenly, he return serious and melancholy. Mabel looked at him in amazement. "What's up, brother?". Dipper shook her head. "Oh, nothing.". Then he took the letter to look it. "Almost all of them have found love. Even Wendy. We no."

Mabel suddenly became sad. "Already. It's true.". Then she straightened up, with a big smile on her lips. "Do you remember what he told Wendy? The changes, big or small, make do grow you always. With new life experiences and new adventures. Maybe for this summer we have not been so lucky in love. But the next? I bet it will be different this time. ". The humor of Mabel was truly contagious, that did go back to the hopeful smile at Dipper.

"Thank you, Mabel.". And he lifted his small fist for the ritual shot between twin brothers. "Always together, little sister?".

Mabel nodded and raised her hand to give the coup. "Always together, Dipper.". And the two fists met, sealing their eternal brotherhood.

Shortly after, Mabel picked up the Christmas souvenir photo and alighted from the bed with enthusiasm. "We put also this photo in the frame. Along with the letter of "See you next summer.". That said, she carefully put the photo on the glass of the picture, inserting it into the frame slot.

"Done. Is not it wonderful? ". Now the letter and the photo seemed to be a perfect family picture.

"Oh, it's perfect, Mabel.". He was moved Dipper, looking at the frame. The girl turned to his brother, with his face beaming now. "You realize? Candy perhaps will have a new computer as gift, with which contact me immediately. Finally, we can tell a lot of things before summer. And maybe it gives permission at Wendy to use it to talk to us. You do not believe? ".

Dipper nodded in agreement. Suddenly, he looked amazed at the window. "Mabel, look ! It's snowing, now ! ".His Sister could not believe his eyes, as she contemplated amazed snow.

"But it's beautiful! We go now to play out. " And she went out hurriedly from the room, after taking the sledge and a pair of gloves. Dipper, meanwhile, grabbed the last letter sent and handed it into the cardboard box. Then he began to wear gloves, now about to leave the room. Before doing so, he took one last look at the frame. The photo was in perfect position against the light of the unique ray of sun, showing all the smiling faces of the people of Gravity Falls.

With a small radiant smile, Dipper finally turned off the light and closed the door behind him.
